Broker Kills Self in Cabin

Samuel Emmet Hotze, San Francisco investment broker who lived at 221 West Bellevue Ave., San Mateo, committed suicide in an isolated cabin near Long Barn, Tuolumne County, late Monday, according to word received by the widow, Mrs. Edith Hotze.

Hotze, who owned extensive mining properties and who was prominent in Peninsula society, left a note addressed to a friend, James Fritz, dog team owner and mountaineer, who found the body. The note read:

"Jimmy, tell my wife of this and tell her not to feel badly. I have thought this over and I am doing it of my own free will."

Mrs. Hotze said her husband left for the mountains three days ago to inspect mining properties at Jamestown. She could advance no reason for the suicide.

Hotze had offices at 235 Montgomery St., San Francisco. Last October he and Mrs. Hotze announced the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to John Milligan Jr., of Oxnard. Two other daughters, Mrs. Leland Dake of Belvedere and Miss Dorothy Hotze, survive.

"Good-by" is a contraction of "God be with ye."

NEW STYLE IN COOKING SCHOOL

Tribune Event Opens at McKinley School Next Wednesday at 2 o'Clock

This year's free Tribune Cooking School, to be conducted in McKinley School Auditorium on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, will feature a sparkling new program of interesting recipes and practical suggestions for simplifying all kinds of household tasks, according to Miss Nancy Baker.

MISS NANCY BAKER
versatile, entertaining economist who is conducting the event.

For the past few months she has been visiting the manufacturers of home equipment and gadgets to get first-hand information on the newest devices to pass on to the women of Redwood City. She has talked with other food experts to learn the latest in new food items and combinations. It's hard to say how many hours she has spent prowling around the linen and silverware departments to bring late ideas in table setting and service.

All these ideas she has combined into three crowded programs to be held under the auspices of the Tribune.

The programs start at 2 o'clock each afternoon. Redwood City housewives all are invited!

Mushroom Workers' Sentences Delayed

Following an hour of arguments over defense motion for a retrial in the mushroom strike riot case, Superior Judge Maxwell McNutt Monday postponed for a week sentencing of three defendants found guilty by a jury last week.

Judge McNutt directed Prosecutor Louis B. Dematteis in the meantime to find some authority on force and violence, and added, significantly, "if you can."

Salaam, a Mohammedan salutation, means "Peace with you."

Isabel Garcia Wins Contest

To a long string of schoolroom A's Isabel Garcia added an A-1 performance in winning the Sequoia High School Public Speaking Contest sponsored by the local chapter of Toastmaster's International Monday night. A sophomore, Miss Garcia defeated three juniors and a senior.

Her topic was "The Menace of Propaganda."

Nancy Needham took the second prize with her talk on "CCC Camps" to make it a clean sweep for the girls.

Ruth Myers, daughter of City Clerk and Mrs. B. E. Myers, discussed "Isolation as a Foreign Policy"; Pherron Muchmore talked on "Political Machines," and Bob Nixon spoke on "They Will Save Democracy," all providing stiff competition for the victors.

In giving the decision of Judges Earl Whitaker, Robert Anderson and himself, Club Critic Robert R. Gros gave Miss Garcia credit for her enthusiasm, her organization of material, and her humor. Miss Needham was commended for her poise and feminine approach to her subject. Especially congratulated was the Sequoia public speaking teacher, Mrs. John Peck, for development of the fluency and special speaking characteristics of her pupils.

Cuthbert Currie was chairman for the evening.

Saturday a Northern California district meeting of Toastmasters will be held in the local Methodist Church social hall at 6 p.m. followed at 8 in the church auditorium by district finals in the speaking contest. The latter session is open to the public.

Long Illness Fatal To Josephine Munoz

An illness of a year from a chronic stomach ailment brought death at noon Tuesday to Josephine Munoz, 21-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marcelino Munoz of the George Webb ranch on Portola Rd.

Miss Munoz, a native of Sanger, had been at Community Hospital, where she died, for 11 days.

Besides her parents, Miss Munoz leaves the following brothers and sisters: Seferino, Joe, Jesse and Mary Munoz, all living at home, and Mrs. Lupe Quadros, of Merced.

. . . A personal message to the women of Redwood City

This newspaper is bringing to this city one of the most highly specialized and valuable cooking schools that it is possible to secure in the entire United States.

In bringing this school to our city at considerable expense we conscientiously believe that we are performing a public service that will be of great value to the women who reside here.

Every effort will be made to make this year's school instructive, entertaining and enjoyable in every way possible.

An excellent auditorium with comfortable seats and good ventilation has been secured and your comfort will be our first consideration.

One of the nation's outstanding home economists, Miss Nancy Baker will conduct the four-day course.

There is absolutely no cost and we extend a cordial invitation to every woman in this area to attend. We feel sure that you will enjoy every minute of it.

MENLO PARK NEWS NOTES

MENLO PARK, Apr. 28—Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Lewis of Hoover St. are at Minden, Nev., aiding in the search for their daughter, Mrs. Marian Gilbert, who disappeared from her shack 25 miles from Reno in February. They were to be joined by the girl's husband, who has arrived from Arizona and who was also missing since last November.

Road shows in Menlo Park seem doomed. They have folded their tents for the last time, if objections of the city council are put in the shape of an ordinance. Many letters were read at the meeting Tuesday objecting to further permits being granted such shows. The members signified a willingness to abide by the opinion of the public. Billboards and outdoor signs are on the toboggan and will also go.

Now that Easter has passed, prospective marriages that were announced after the first of the year will take place in May. At least three local young people will proceed to the altar.

Menlo Parlor, NDGW, will give a card party in Central School the evening of May 6. Score cards will be 25 cents. Winners will be awarded valuable prizes.

Next Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. J. Harris on Park Lane a benefit card party will take place. Score cards are 25 cents, including refreshments. The public is invited to a pleasant afternoon at cards and delectable refreshments served by charming women.

Rev. Father Lacey has been appointed by Archbishop J. J. Mitty as assistant pastor of the Church of the Nativity. He succeeds Father Maurice O'Brien, who is visiting his mother in Ireland. The archbishop also has appointed Father Doyle of Oakland as the administrator of St. Aloysius Church o Mayfield. Both priests are graduates of St. Patrick's Seminary.

Weeden Brothers have been awarded the contract to improve Fremont School.

The local parlor, NDGW, held a whist party Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. W. Dewey on Live Oak Ave.

The graduating class of Central School gave a tea to their mothers Thursday in the school auditorium.

Mrs. F. Kelley of Pittsburg spent last week-end visiting her sisters, Mrs. T. P. Reynolds and Mrs. R. Banks.

Mrs. Catherine Derry and Mrs. Jack Doyle will attend the past president's assembly of the Native Daughters in Grass Valley Saturday and Sunday.

A $16,000 real estate deal involving a Palo Alto residence on Lincoln avenue and 16 acres of the old Flood estate near Atherton was recorded in Redwood City recently. Through a three-way transaction with Mrs. Maud Lee Flood, Dr. H. A. Frederick of San Francisco acquired the Flood acreage in exchange for his Palo Alto dwelling, which became the property of Mrs. Maggie M. Murray.

TARKINGTON STORY AT SEQUOIA

The Mauch twins will appear on the Fox Sequoia screen this Sunday, Monday and Tuesday with "Girl of the Golden West." The title of their feature is "Penrod's Twin Brother," a Booth Tarkington story.

Work Camp Enrollee Confesses Burglary

Melvin Clark, 26, one of four Memorial Park work camp enrollees held for questioning regarding the burglary of the Loma Mar Inn near the park Saturday night, has assertedly admitted his guilt to Dep. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis. He will be charged with burglary, Dematteis said.

Clark implicated John Donlan, 24, another camp worker, but exonnerated two others. Doughlas Fisher, 43, and Fred Lambrecht, 39. Dematteis said he had not decided what charges would be filed against Donlan, but the others would be released.

Stolen from the inn were three bottles of liquor. An empty cash register was broken into.

An all-glass train toured England, Scotland and Wales in November, 1937.

Tax Collections Show Improvement

sults of the 1937-38 county tax

After surveying preliminary recollections, County Tax Collector Ambrose McSweeney announced here that collections were better this year than last.

The total bill against the county, he pointed out, was $2,920,014.14, about $800,000 higher than 1936-37. The delinquency stands at $181,073.25, with prospects of collecting about $30,000 more in the course of clearing, McSweeney estimated. While the delinquency was smaller in dollars and cents last year, it was larger in percentage, he said.

The office collected $1,728,856.03 on the first installment, and to date $1,010,184,86 on the second installment.

Stack's Return Hinges on Health

Controller Edward M. Stack Monday refused to confirm or deny reports that he would return to his courthouse office May 1 for the first time in more than five months.

"It all depends on my condition," said the county official who has been confined to his Burlingame home by illness. "I have been improving all along."

Meanwhile Dep. Controller George Filbert announced plans to take his regular two-week vacation May 1.

"I hope to have an opportunity to inspect the Contra Costa County controller's office," he said. "Their system of accounts, encumbrances, and some of their forms may be suitable for use here."

Oregon State and California crews were first to take part in intercollegiate sports competition at the site of the 1939 World's Fair of the West. The Golden Bear oasmen won from the Beavers by two lengths over the Treasure Island course.

Songs of Spring in Yosemite

It's spring in Yosemite. The bears are emerging from their caves on the talus slopes to return to their haunts along the river; mule deer graze contentedly in lush, green meadows that will soon be studded with azaleas; the fragrance of pines and cedars is like a tonic and skies are blue overhead; robins and blue jays add their joyous notes to the song of rushing waters. For miles the banks of the river in Merced Canyon are crimsoned with redbud and strewn with poppies, fiddlenecks, baby blue eyes, popcorn flowers and blue lupine. The manzanita is in bloom, to be followed soon by the flowering dogwood.

In May Yosemite's great waterfalls are approaching their peak. From precipitous heights plunge Yosemite, Bridalveil, Ribbon and a dozen lesser falls to create the most magnificent water display on earth. Their white, white waters, swollen by the melting snow pack in the high country, rocket, plummet and billow down—in a slender unbroken column like Ribbon or in a series of falls and turbulent cascades, like Yosemite. Spillways from Heaven!

The sequoia trees of California things. Some are estimated at 4000 are thought to be the oldest living years old.

FEW OPPONENTS TO RELIEF CAMP APPEAR AT MEET

Organized opposition to the establishment of a State Relief Administration "subsistence camp" at Sharp Park virtually collapsed Tuesday at a special hearing conducted by the board of supervisors.

At the conclusion of an hour's discussion, three women, none of them residents of the community, were the only ones still willing to maintain their opposition.

The board delayed any action pending a meeting of the Sharp Park Improvement Club Monday night.

Elmer H. Bose, state chairman of camps for SRA, explained the purposes of the work camp. He said it would be limited to a maximum enrollment of 250 men from San Francisco and San Mateo Counties. He announced that between 75 and 100 would be available for work under the county engineer and planning commission. He said the men would be under close supervision, and declared he saw no reason for alarm.

The camp is portable, he said, and will be in operation for 18 months only. He declared that children going to school or playing on the beaches would be safe from molestation.

Frank Hawley, representative of the Salada Beach Utility District, disclosed that residents of the community had been aware of the plan to construct the camp for two months and had investigated thoroughly.

"We visited camps at Mt. Diablo and Benicia and found them very much to our liking," he said. "When we came back we held a mass meeting at which we warned the liquor dealers that there would be a construction gang in the town which would be spending money. We warned them that they shouldn't try to get the last nickel out of each man.

"There are 15 liquor dealers in the area and only three attended. two or three establishments fed the workmen so much liquor they couldn't stand up. Then the stories started.

HOLD TALES FALSE

"Wild stories were circulated that homes had been entered and women had been insulted. We checked up and found they were without foundation.

Ray Higgins pointed out that not one of those present at the meeting today was from Sharp Park. He also declared that the letter of protest sent to the supervisors from he Sharp Park Improvement Club was not authorized at any meeting of the club. He invited the board to attend a "free for all" when the club meets Monday.

Sheriff James J. McGrath assured the board that his office would be able to "handle the situation" at the camp at a slight increase in the sheriff's budget to permit stationing a man full time a Sharp Park.

It was estimated that 1,212,459,360 barrels had been withdrawn from the East Texas oil field by March, 1938.

Coyote Point Finance Program Sought by Group

City and county officials met in San Mateo Monday night to voice unanimous approval of a recreational project embracing 591 acres at Coyote Pt., but when the speech-making was over the plan faced these definite obstacles:

1. Hillsborough officials who were to be asked to contribute substantially to the land acquisition program declined to commit their city.

2. Mayor Allen Ward and Councilman Edward R. McDonald of Burlingame complained that Burlingame would be paying double taxation if it contributed one-third of the land.

After the meeting, Asst. Dist. Atty. Daniel E. Sullivan, who explained the legal factors involved in the purchase and operation of the recreation project, said the city and county officials must first decide what they want to do before going any further with the project.

The financial difficulties will be pondered by the project's finance committee at a meeting planned for the near future, it was announced.

Present last night were members of the board of supervisors, the city councils of Burlingame, San Mateo and Hillsborough, and the county planning commission.

Office Building Proposal Laid Aside by Board

Sketches, Plans Drawn For Submission To Government

In answer to a "hurry-up" questionnaire from the Public Works Administration, the board of supervisors Tuesday whipped together tentative plans for the proposed courthouse annex building and authorized County Executive E. A. Rolison to send the required information to Washington.

By unanimous action the board agreed to scrap the office building plan already approved by PWA in favor of the annex plan if the change could be effected without making a new application.

Change in the plan will increase the cost of providing increased county office space from $181,000 to $225,000, according to tentative estimates.

SKETCHES, PLANS SHOWN

Preliminary sketches and floor plans were submitted to the supervisors today by Planning Adviser Ronald Campbell and Bldg. Insptr. William Watson Jr.

Front elevation of the annex showed a two-story modern-front office structure with a three-story central wing, with additional office space in a full, well-lighted basement.

The new structure would be set back 27 feet from Broadway and 18 feet from Hamilton Ave. and Middlefield Rd. It would be about 18 feet in front of the present courthouse, with which it would be connected with two corridors, one on each of the first two floors.

ALL IN ONE STRUCTURE

Construction of the annex, it was pointed out, would permit housing of all county offices within the single unified structure. The original plan called for construction of a separate office building at Marshall St. and Middlefield Rd. on the property now occupied by the county fire department.

In order to facilitate completion of plans, tentative allocation of office space in the new and old buildings was made. This allocation, Rolison said, is subject to change after conference with county department heads.

The tentative plan calls for location of the offices of tax collector, assessor, and the executive on the first floor of the annex. A stairway would lead to the service division in the basement where the Hollerith machine would be housed. Also on the main floor would be the public health and welfare departments, and the agricultural commissioner's office, with additional office quarters, filing rooms, and storage space in the basement for both departments.

BOARD MEETING PLACE

On the second floor of the annex would be the county engineer, county planning and recreation commissions, district attorney's office and building inspector's office.

The third floor, over the center wing only, would provide room for a large, modern meeting place for the supervisors. The seating capacity would be about the same as that of the superior court rooms. Also on the third floor would be committee rooms and offices.

In the present courthouse, the courts, clerk, and controller would remain in their present quarters, according to the provisional arrangement. The recorder's office would be expanded to include the present assessor's office, and the county librarian would take over room now used by the assessor's engineering department in the basement. The justice court would be installed in the present supervisors' chambers, and the county superintendent of schools would move into the office now occupied by the district attorney.

ELEVATOR PLANNED

The new annex would be provided with an elevator, according to Watson, and would include a central heating plant for both buildings.

To meet the increased cost, Supervisor Fred E. Beer explained, the county would levy another $50,000 assessment in the 1938-39 tax levy. Of this amount, $25,000 would be used for the construction of the annex and a like amount for furnishings, he said.

The PWA, which grants 45 per cent of costs of projects it approves, will be asked to increase its allocation accordingly, Beer said.

Huge Damage Done By Railroad Thefts

For a maximum gain of $83 to himself, William Bisaro, 25-year-old San Franciscan, stole 124 brass bearings from Southern Pacific freight cars at a loss of thousands of dollars to the company, it was learned here.

Bisaro, convicted of a grain theft near Half Moon Bay last February.

Fall, was arrested in the act by Southern Pacific yard police at the Bayshore City freight yards Friday. He confessed to the thefts and showed police where he had hidden 44 more bearings, stolen since February. He confessed to stealing 80 others between August

A San Francisco junk dealer bought the bearings for 75 cents each, Bisaro confessed.

Plans Made to Move Greyhound Bus Depot

Work was underway today on remodeling of the building at 709 El Camino Real to convert it into a station for Pacific Greyhound Lines. Removal from its present location at 765 El Camino Real is expected within a month. Henry Witte, agent, will also move his real estate and insurance business to the new location. Owners of the structure are Leona Creason and Ola Matot, sisters who recently came here from Oregon. The building formerly was occupied by W. G. Dandy, Willys dealer.

Redwood Tree Cutter Wins Suspended Term

Mitch J. Piona, Fremont, Santa Clara County, arrested by County Fire Warden B. L. Werder for cutting redwood trees and branches on private property in the Canada Rd. district, was given a suspended sentence by Judge E. I. McAuliffe Monday. His load of redwood was confiscated. Piona told the judge he had a permit to cut trees but got on the wrong property by mistake. He said he used the material to make rustic furniture.

THOMPSON CASE DELAYED

For the second time in as many weeks, a scheduled hearing of the divorce charges filed by Mrs. Grace V. Thompson of Portola Rd. against her wealthy Salt Lake City husband, Ezra, collapsed in Judge A. R. Cotton's court when no one appeared Monday. The case was continued two weeks.

Owner Lost as Boat Capsizes in Surf

Salvatore Rappa, North Beach crab fisherman, drowned when his 25-foot fishing boat was caught in the breakers half a mile south of Fort Funston Monday.

Rappa was returning with the crab fleet when his little boat was caught by a giant comber. Rappa was thrown clear, but grabbed the capsized boat, according to those who saw the mishap from the shore. Another wave swept him away, and a moment later he was seen floating on a piece of wreckage. He suddenly disappeared from sight and efforts of coast guard crews from Fort Point and Point Bonita to locate the body were unavailing.

The boat was swept on to the beach near the old Olympic Club pumping plant. Rappa, 41, was a native of Italy, where he leaves a widow. He had been in this country since 1912.
